Flood of Complaints Hasn't Receded Yet: It's Borough's Turn with Harry's Brook

The Borough tapped George Olexa as its new engineer Monday night, listened to anguished home-owners barely dry from two feet of water in the living-room, decided-- belatedly, the home-owners said ruefully-- to participate in the Federal flood insurance program and embraced the Township's assessor as their own.

Mr. Olexa will replace Donald Harney, who becomes Mercer County engineer next month. The appointment is an "acting" one until final passage of an ordinance, introduced Monday night, eliminating the requirement of a sewer plant superintendent's license for the Borough engineer. Mr. Olexa does not have one, but others at the sewer plant do.

The new engineer came to the Borough as assistant engineer in 1968. He has a Bachelor of Science in civil engineering from Newark College of Engineering (1966) and a master's degree in structures and civil engineering from the University of Illinois (1967). Mr. Olexa lives in Lawrence Township. He is single.

Rain. The house on the southwest corner of Snowden and Hamilton, charmingly nestled in a little hollow, had two feet of water in the den and a foot and a half in the living room during recent floods.

The house belongs to Leon J. Vieland and his wife, Dr. Constance Vieland, and at one point in Monday night's discussion, Mr. Vieland suggested the Borough buy his property and use it for the catch-basin he says it already is.

The Vielands, who had just cleaned things up from the July 14 flood when July 20 struck, spent three nights in a motel, suffered more than $5,000 in damages and feel strongly that the Snowden Lane culvert is inadequate.

In a letter to Mayor Robert W. Cawley, Mr. Vieland wrote, "...the flood water is not just 'aqua pura'. The sanitary sewer that passes across out backyard is infiltrated by storm water and the resulting excessive pressure causes it to discharge through a manhole cover..."

From the back row of the sparse summertime audience, Arthur S. House, 20 Gordon Way, rose to talk about flood waters at Queenston Common, the condominium project at Hamilton and Harrison.

Mr. House, who told Council he is on the board of directors of Queenston home-owners, said "more water came in on us than went out, and it came from Hamilton Avenue."

Engineer Donald Harney told the Vielands and Mr. House that he began conferring with the county right after the Doria storm in 1971 (the county builds and is responsible for, culverts.) If culverts are enlarged and the flow goes into the Township faster than it does now, he told Mr. House, even more problems might surface.

He reminded Queenston property-owners that the state had approved the design of the Queenston culvert.

"It was completely under water," Mr. House said.

A Look Back. Mr. Vieland reported that county engineers told him in 1973 they had plans to re-align the stream bed of Harry's Brook. Council member Robert Powell suggested the possibility of pipes laid in the brook, but Mr. Harney shook his head. The pipe would have to be bigger than present culverts, he said, and besides, home-owners don't like pipe laid in a stream bed.

Mayor Cawley said Borough, Township and county should confer to see what can be done. Harry's Brook, after all, knows no municipal boundaries.

Then Council passed the resolution opening the way for the Borough to participate, as the Township does, in Federal flood insurance programs.

"If we lived across the street in the Township," said Mr. Vielant, "we'd have had insurance."

Mr. Harney reported that the state has cut in half the $10,183 expected by the Borough for so-called "thin overlay" of three streets: Edwards, University and Armour. If Council decides to transfer money from one part of the budget to another, the projects may yet go through, but that's the only way.

Money to overlay Harrison from Nassau to Hamilton-- $24,000-- has also been sliced in half by the state. This project will probably be dropped.

Administrator Robert F. Mooney said state budget problems have cost the Borough $43,000 in sales-tax money. The amount represents about five tax points, he said.

Stuart Robson, Township assessor, will also be Borough assessor. Council passed the necessary ordinance Monday night.

Allan Wallack, Hans Lechner, Oliver Houghton, Robert McChesney and Roberta Eckleberry were named to the Rent-levelling Board under the Renewed rent-levelling ordinance. Kathryn Kuhn was named alternate member of the Zoning Board.

LIGHTNING HITS BOYS

Controversy at Home. Sparks of controversy were flying this week following a Princeton YMCA wilderness camping trip last month in which three boys were struck by lightning and knocked unconscious – but escaped without after-effects.

The father of one of the boys and a Princeton pediatrician who examined the boys upon their return to Princeton five days after the incident questioned the wisdom of the two YMCA counselors' decision to continue the camping trip without notifying medical authorities, the Princeton YMCA, or the parents.

Walter Sorg, associate general secretary of the Princeton YMCA, defended the actions of the two counselors. When the boys were struck, according to Mr. Sorg, one--Michael Leahy of 187 Laurel Circle – apparently stopped breathing. Mouth-to-mouth resuscitation was immediately administered. Two others appeared to be in shock. They were placed in sleeping bags under tarps and treated. One of the counselors then went off to find a suitable site to set up camp.

"The boys are all fine now and they were fine just hours after the incident," said Mr. Sorg. "These counselors did a superlative job. They probably saved that one kid's life. But all they're getting now is a lot of crap," the YMCA official said in reference to the controversy.

The two leaders, Rich Schimel, a 1975 Princeton University graduate, and Alex Greenwood, a Rider College alumnus, were accompanying a group of 17 boys, ages 12 and 13, in one of the YMCA's Ranger camping programs. The group trained with the leaders for one week in Princeton beginning July 7, then traveled to a base camp in the Adirondacks. On July 19 they began canoeing through

Problems of Summer Heat Continue to Plague Lunch Counters, Health Inspections Indicate

The summer sandwich, plump with cold chicken, tuna or hard-boiled egg, bound with mayonnaise and crisp with celery and lettuce, can be a germ trap.

Here's the way Princeton's lunch counters shape up on summer sandwiches, according to inspections made by the Borough Board of Health and lab analyses made by Garden State Labs. The surveys are made every two weeks. Not all establishments are inspected each time.

On June 6, Board of Health inspection of P.J.'s found chicken salad with a total standard bacteria plate count of 32,000,000 on a scale allowing a maximum of 100,000. Coliform bacteria counted at 16,000 with an allowed maximum of 100. The staph count was satisfactory. The direct miscroscopic bacteria count was 40,000,000, compared to the allowed maximum of 1,000,000. Tuna had a plate count of 140,000.

By the June 20 inspection, all counts were satisfactory on both chicken salad aod tuna.

Harry's Luncheonette has been buffeted by problems this summer. The June 6 inspection showed a 520,000 total standard plate count (100,000 maximum) for egg salad; 8,100 coliform count (100 maximum) and a "clean" rating for direct microscopic bacteria. Two weeks later, there was a 7,600,000 total standard plate count; 1,200 for coliform and satisfactory counts for direct microscopic bacteria.

On July 3, the total standard plate count – 1,400,000 — was again higher than it had been June 6, but lower than June 20. The direct microscopic bacteria count was 11,000,000. Coliform and staph counts were satisfactory.

By the July 18 inspection, the egg salad was well within the allowed maximum for total standard plate count, but the direct microscopic bacteria count was still a stubborn 16,000,000 (max. 1,000,000). Results of the second July inspection have not yet been received.

Chicken salad at Harry's on July 18 showed a total standard count of 7,600,000 (max. 100,000) and a 610 count for coliform bacteria (max. 100), a satisfactory staph count, but 64,000,000 for direct microscopic bacteria (max. 1,000,000).

Why? "It's hard to pinpoint any one thing," says Andrew O'Hara, of the Borough Board of Health, "it's not necessarily mayonnaise. We have a list of procedures, and sometimes it can be traceable to not following them. All these places make their own sandwich fillings."

A detailed list of procedures is given to all establishments. Employees who prepare food must use germicidal soap on hands and under fingernails, or wear plastic disposable gloves. People with infected cuts aren't allowed to prepare food. The same employee can't handle raw chicken or raw meat while making a salad.

Celery, lettuce, carrots – washed and diced -- and shrimp, lobster, shelled hardboiled eggs, cooked chicken meat and diced ham, must be immersed in boiling water for 30 seconds, then rinsed immediately in cold water and chilled to 45 degrees Fahrenheit or less. Oregano, pepper, spices and seasonings must be sterilized by dry heat.

Inspecting other luncheonettes, the Borough found on June 6 that Food Mart chicken salad had 31,000,000 total standard plate count (max. 100,000) and 50,000,000 for the direct microscopic bacteria count (max. 1,000,000). Coliform and staph were satisfactory.

By the July 3 inspection Food Mart chicken salad — and chicken roll — had a total standard plate count well below the allowed maximum, but coliform counted in at 5,200 (max. 100). All other criteria were "clear." And the July 18 inspection found Food Mart chicken salad completely satisfactory. So was the tuna.

Buxton's on July 3, had a 15,000,000 total count for its egg salad, with 3,900 for coliform, 1,600 for staph and 21,000,000 for direct microscopic bacteria. By the July 18 inspection, the egg salad was all clear and the tuna salad, not inspected July 3, was clear also.

On one inspection this summer -- July 3 -- the Colonial's egg salad was satisfactory on all counts.

Brief Power Loss Marks Four-Day Heat Wave— Cooler Trend to Be Followed by Return to 90s

"We're still in the Dog Days," observed weatherman David Ludlum, restraining an urge to pack Fido off to the pound, "and until they're gone...."

Mr. Ludlum looks ahead to the Ides of August. About August 15 every year, this part of the world gets what he calls "a good flow of Canadian air," and the Dog Days slink back to the kennel.

(The term, incidentally, goes back to the Romans, Mr. Ludlum reminds us. They observed that Sirius, the Dog Star, rises this year at the same time as the sun, and they reasoned that both together created more heat than the sun would alone.).

So, it may get hot again before August 15. Mr. Ludlum refuses to predict any more detail than that.

He does say we were lucky in the breaking of the last heat-wave. We were also lucky in the way the hot air flowed.

"It was hotter in New England because the hot air went north across Ontario, then down into New England," he explains, "Also, they had clear skies up there. We had haze, and that cuts down a degree or two on heat."

It was 104 in Providence, 100 on Nantucket (five degrees above the record) and a sizzling 72 on top of Mt. Washington (one degree above the record).

But here in Princeton, it was a nice 94 in the shade, possibly 97 in the open. Not a record at all. It wasn't all that long, either, although it certainly seemed so. Mr. Ludlum clocked it at four days, compared to a nine-day record heat wave New York once had.

The 94 recorded at Mr. Ludlum's Riverside Drive home held Saturday and Sunday. Both days, the air was dead and still: anemometer cups on the Ludlum roof-tree slumbered all day, both days.

Then, early Monday morning-- 7 a.m. by the Ludlum clock– cold air came in from the ocean, and by 8 a.m. was nice.

"Confounded all the weather experts," Mr. Ludlum says happily.

The cold front was originally expected to stop at New England and not come far south enough to cool off New Jersey. But it did, anyway, stopping just about here, and certainly not progressing much farther south than Trenton and Lakehurst.

"I see a changeable pattern," said the weatherman, rubbing the heat haze off his crystal ball. "There isn't much of this cold air from Canada, so it will be hot again--before August 15."

Did Your Power Dim? A sudden lowering in the hum of the air-conditioner, a brief dimming of lights, a seconds long stopping of a pump at the water company's pumping station.

These were signs over the weekend, that Princeton was using power, and a lot of it. However, Public Service says they had more than enough power for the heat-wave weekend, and haven't deliberately reduced the voltage because it hasn't been necessary.

But one householder with a voltage meter recorded consistent levels of 110 to 115 volts, instead of the standard 120 volts of house current. At the Radio Shack, in the Princeton Shopping Center, voltage meters recorded only 109 on Saturday, and 108 Monday afternoon, instead of the usual 120.

Lower voltage can damage an appliance like an air-conditioner or a heavy exhaust fan, because the appliance draws more current to compensate for the loss, electricians say.

At the Alexander Street pumping station of Elizabethtown Water Company, technicians report a two or three-second cut-off of their biggest pump. However, standby pumps assure a constant supply and pressure of water, and if power goes off altogether, there are generators to move in and provide it.

Sunday's brief power loss at the pumping station was the first in a long time, engineers said.

"Heat storms" like the one just passed--the term is Public Service's-- make heavy demands on a system, and company spokesmen say that maybe overloaded transformers "cut out" and simply went to another circuit.

PARKING, SEWERS....

And a Short Meeting. A brief meeting-- 28 minutes long, eight minutes longer than the record-- nevertheless gave Township Committee enough time Monday night to act on a measure or two, award a bid and promise further study of three parking problems.

Committee passed the routine resolution assuring Corner House of $40,800 in Federal money for its drug-abuse control program. The action is taken each summer to take care of funds for the final six months of the year.

Sewer repair in the Hillside area, where infiltration problems have been under study for about a year, will be done by the Video Pipe Grouting Inc., of Chicago, lone bidder with $5,576.64. The sum is $400 under the Township's estimate. Work will involve leaky joints and manholes and general repair of connections.

The August 12 meeting of the Sewer Operating Committee will be a crucial one and Township Committee representative Margaret Broadwater will be on vacation. So she resigned as municipal representative on the SOC– temporarily– and Committee member William Sutphin was appointed--temporarily– in her place. After she gets back from vacation, Mr. Sutphin will presumably resign and Mrs. Broadwater will be re-appointed.

The SOC does not have a legal quorum unless at least one representative is present from each of the three SOC members. The Township's civilian representative, William Starr, is also on vacation. At the meeting, the SOC will act on the interim report of its sewer consultant on the current infiltration study. Action is necessary to keep Federal funding.

Parking problems around Township Hall and the Community Park pool, and on Route 206 across from the Jack and Jill store, were referred to Administrator Joseph R. Nini for study.

IN ONE JAIL...

...Out of Another. Twenty-year-old Larry Miller of Lytle Street, who had been arrested earlier by Borough police on a warrant issued in Somerset County, was charged last Thursday with breaking and entering, larceny, and attempted breaking and entering--this time in the Borough.

The result was that Det. Charles Harris arrested Mr. Miller at the Somerset County Jail, brought him back to Princeton where bail was set at $1,000, and then had him remanded to Mercer County Jail in Trenton in lieu of bail.

Mr. Miller was charged with an attempted break-in in the Stanworth area and the theft of a black and white television and a clock radio from a student's room at Erdman Hall at the Westminster Choir College. The date of both incidents was given as July 24.

The total value of items missing from the student's room was set at $125.

TURNS HIMSELF IN

Bad Check Charged. A Plainsboro resident, aware that Princeton police sought him in connection with a forged check and a motor vehicle violation, and that Montgomery Township police wanted him concerning a malicious damage charge, turned himself in at Borough Hall July 29.

John Duncan, 27, was charged with passing a forged check for $80 to a Princeton merchant, and with running a red light. He was released on $25 bail.

The oven door finally closed Monday, having baked assorted Princetonians rather thoroughly for the previous four days. Record readings were not set, but you couldn't persuade those enduring the combined heat and humidity that it wasn't about as unpleasant as anything they had known in the past.

A mid-week turn to much drier weather was scheduled to bring temperatures slightly lower than normal through the weekend. They are expected to rise again next week, but the forecast for all of August is for precipitation below average and thermometer readings to match.

pedaling their newly acquired 10-speeds toward their hometown of Trenton. One of the 14-year-olds was placed in custody of the Youth House in Trenton. The others were released to their parents.

Early Friday morning proctors again spotted three youths on bikes that turned out to be stolen. Two were apprehended, including a 16-year-old from Trenton and a 20-year-old from Columbia, South Carolina. The latter, Vincent Days, was charged with trespassing by Proctor Douglas Watson.

A 10-speed bicycle valued at $75 was reported stolen last Thursday from the courtyard at the Princeton Medical Center. The owner, a doctor, had locked the bike before going into the hospital. This one got away.

BANK BOOKS STOLEN

From Two Residents. If the thieves are highly skilled in forging checks, they may have made off with a bundle in two thefts reported last week to Borough police.

This Monday, at 1:25 p.m., a Pennington resident reported that the convertible top on his Volkswagen had been slit open while he was in the movies and a checkbook and two savings account passbooks had been taken from the glove compartment.

BURGLAR SURPRISED

By Greenholm Resident. A woman returning to her house in Greenholm at 11:10 p.m. Saturday discovered a young man dashing out of her back kitchen door as she came in the front.

Police dispatched two cars to the area but the subsequent search failed to turn up a suspect. The woman's purse had been stolen.

TRAFFIC FINES LISTED

Speeding, Careless Driving. Philip Carchman presided at Borough traffic court Monday night. Among his judgments were the following involving area residents:

Joseph Federici, 67, of 141 Linden Lane, guilty to a charge of failing to yield, fined $20; Christos Papadimitriou, 25, of the Princeton Graduate College; careless driving, $20; John F. Steck Jr., 20, 15 Seminary Avenue, Hopewell, careless driving, $20; Sonja Young, 35, of 165 Birch Avenue, speeding, $16; Edward F. Armstrong, 25, 4264 Province Line Road, speeding, $16; and Sherman Bates, 23 Quarry Street, careless driving, $20.

ELECTION POSTPONED

By Labor Relations Board. An election scheduled this Wednesday to determine if non-professional employees of the Princeton University Library could organize their own collective bargaining unit has been postponed by the National Labor Relations Board. the NLRB notified the University and the employees' group on Monday that it wanted additional time to determine whether or not it would review the University's contention that the library assistants should bargain in a unit that includes all office and clerical staff at the University.

The NLRB had ruled in June that the Princeton University Library Assistants Association (PULAA), representing about 200 people, was an appropriate unit for collective bargaining purposes. The PULAA and University officials met last month to determine an election date agreeable to both parties.

They couldn't agree, and the NLRB set this Wednesday as the date.

The University, meanwhile, appealed the NLRB's ruling on the appropriate unit question. In postponing the election, the NLRB did not uphold the University's appeal. It merely requested an "indefinite period" in which to decide whether it should consider the appeal.

If the NLRB stands by its original ruling in favor of the PULAA, then another election will be scheduled. If a majoity of the assistants are in favor of representation, the PULAA will then be certified as a collective bargaining agent and a contract can be negotiated and voted on by the library employees.

The PULAA is affiliated with the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees (AFSCME), which has also organized the Rutgers University clerical staff.

CLUB LOSES ROUND

In Discrimination Case. New Jersey Superior Court Judge A. Jerome Moore, who just a week ago was expected to rule on the validity of the discrimination charge against the Springdale Golf Club, now has decided that his court has no jurisdiction to determine whether the club is a private or public facility.

The case now is expected to return to the State Department of Civil Rights, which will continue its investigation to determine if there is "probable cause" that Springdale discriminated illegally when it denied membership to Princeton High School basketball coach and guidance counselor Marvin Trotman, a black.

A complaint was first filed against the club April 4, almost a year after Mr. Trotman's membership ap-

Save the Dinky!

The Dinky is missing from the final Federal report on railroads. In an effort to get it back on the track, Borough Council member Barbara Sigmund is holding a public meeting next Tuesday at 3 p.m. in Borough Hall.

The Conrail service proposed by the report is almost exclusively freight, Mrs. Sigmund points out, but she adds that the 1973 Railway Act mandates passenger service. Amtrak is all very well, she says, but the short-haul passenger is now an endangered species.

She wants to be sure the Dinky is eligible for subsidy if Conrail does go through, and she wants to make certain the Dinky is included in any "non-abandonment" plan.

Borough Council member Martin Lombardo, a commuter, urged an evening meeting, but the 3 p.m. hour stands.

Springdale, in turn, took the Division of Civil Rights to court, arguing that it had sulfered "irreparable harm" because of the charge and asking the court to determine if the club is private or public in the eyes of the law and whether the Division of Civil Rights had jurisdiction to investigate and prosecute the charge.

The division has argued that Springdale is a public accommodation because it utilizes land owned by the University, which utilizes funds from the Federal government.

More Legalities? Judge Moore heard these and other arguments presented by lawyers for both parties and also took written briefs from both sides. But, after saying the contestants in the case would be notified of his decision "as soon as possible," he finally decided to make no decision.

Springdale now is expected to await the completion of the Division's investigation before considering further legal action.

ETS NAMED IN SUIT

Monopolizing Lists Charged. Educational Testing Service and its associate, the College Entrance Examination Board, have been charged with monopolizing the sale of student lists to colleges, universities and other organizations in violation of Federal anti-trust laws. The lists are used by educational organizations to recruit students.

In a complaint filed in Federal Court in Brooklyn, the American Student List Company and its president, Martin Lerner, charged that the Educational Testing Service obtained exclusive access to lists of high school students through the college entrance tests it administers under contract with the College Entrance Examination Board. These include the widely administered Scholastic Aptitude Test as well as the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

The American Student List Company, Great Neck, L.I., is asking for $1.494 million in damages to compensate for estimated losses. Mr. Lerner claimed in the suit that the firms compile lists of students from those they test and sell the lists for a base price of $100 plus ten cents per name. He added that his firm sells similar lists for a fee of three cents a name and that the two defendant firms have more accurate lists but refuse to sell to him in what he claims is an unlawful restraint of competition.

In a prepared statement, Educational Testing Service replied: "Neither the College Entrance Examination Board nor Educational Testing Service has received any legal papers to date, so cannot comment on the complaint until they know what the charges are and can discuss them with legal counsel.

"The College Board and ETS are independent nonprofit, nonstock educational organizations. The College Board is a membership association of more than 2,000 colleges and universities, secondary schools, educational systems, and education associations. Its programs and services are governed by its membership its Board of Trustees."

For New Students at PHS

The Princeton High School guidance staff will be available to register and schedule new students to the High School beginning August 18 through the opening of school.

It is not necessary for students who are transferring into the High School to bring any particular documents. However, it would be helpful to have a copy of the birth certificate, the school said, and the most recent report card, as well as a transfer card from the previous school attended.

Ten Different Types of Man-Eating Mosquitoes Giving New Jersey Its Worst Season in Years

Mosquitoes are out in force in New Jersey and the homeowner can do something about it, according to Dr. Donald J. Sutherland of the Department of Entomology and Economic Zoology at the State University's Cook College.

"Every attempt is being made by county and state mosquito control agencies to reduce the nuisance of the worst mosquito season in years," he said, "but the recent heavy rains have complicated control efforts and the populations of more than 10 different types of man-biting mosquitoes are increasing throughout most of the state."

With mosquitoes poised to bite just about every square inch of exposed human flesh particularly at the peak "bite hours" in the morning around sunrise and in the evening near sunset – homeowners can achieve temporary relief by using currently available non-persistent insecticides. Dr. Sutherland and his colleagues at the State Agricultural Experiment Station specified malathion, pyrethrin, resmithrin and allethrin, which are relatively non-toxic.

These chemicals are available in spray cans or may be purchased as a liquid and mixed with water. When using sprays, Dr. Wutherland suggested reading the label on the can and following directions carefully.

Spray Shrubbery. "Spray surrounding shrubbery lightly before outdoor activities," he said. "The relief will be temporary – generally not lasting more than a couple of hours, especially if adjacent areas are not treated."

These insecticides are used on a larger scale by New Jersey mosquito control agencies. To get the maximum effect, the agencies generally try to apply the chemicals when mosquitoes are flying. "If the timing isn't correct," he said, "additional emerging or migrating adult mosquitoes will invade the treated area the next day and maintain the nuisance level."

The female mosquito is aggressive in seeking a blood meal which will allow her to lay eggs for the next generation. To keep her from getting that meal in your house, check the window and door screens for their efficiency.

To reduce annoyance when going out, effective repellants available as lotions, creams and sprays should be applied to all exposed parts of the body. Dr. Sutherland said these can protect an individual for up to four hours.

Among the types of mosquitoes most active in New Jersey right now are:

- Aedes sollicitans, the salt-marsh mosquito, which may be identified by its black-and-white striped legs. This type is found along the shore and even bites during the middle of the day.
- Aedes vexans, the summer flood-water mosquito, is found in inland areas. It breeds in rain-flooded pools and also has striped legs, but the white stripes are narrow and not easily seen.
- Cutex pipiens, the house mosquito, is the dull brown one biting you around the home. It breeds in containers of water. These containers should be emptied to kill the larvae, said Dr. Sutherland.

News Of The THEATRES

FINAL, FOR INTIME

"U.T.B.U." Hardly seems possible that summer is about to end, but at Summer Intime, they're getting ready for their final production of the season. It's James Kirkwood's "U.T.B.U." ("Unhealthy to be Unpleasant"), and it will open a two week-end engagement next Thursday, August 14 in Murray Theatre, curtain time 8:30 except on Sunday when it moves back to 7:30.

Kirkwood is co-author of the current Broadway hit, "Chorus Line," and in "U.T.B.U.", he has written an outrageous farce about an organization dedicated to the extermination fo unpleasant people.

The U.T.B.U. representative, blind and eccentric, comes to call on J. Francis Amber, a fading movie star. His household consists of himself and his ego, a woolly and aging mother, the housekeeper and a would-be actress who is J. Francis' niece. There's a brassy stage mother, her child star, abortive assassination techniques and Kirkwood only knows what else.

Georgine Freedman, who was in "Oh, Dad, Poor Dad," Shirley Kauffman, Eric Zwemer, Joseph Harbeson, Kimberly Myers, Winnie Holzman and Katherine Stewart are in the cast. John C. Vennema is the director.

IT'MOVIE NIGHT

Mon., Tues., Wed. Summer Intime continues to operate the projection machine the first three nights of each week. Film revivals are screened at 7 p.m. in McCormick Art Museum on the University campus.

"Summer Stock," the Monday offering, stars Gene Kelly and Judy Garland as a theatrical producer and his protogee. In this one Judy sings "Get Happy," and Summer Intime says her renditioon is worth the price of admission.

"Lost Horizon," scheduled for Tuesday, is the Frank Capra version from 1936, with Ronald Colman, Jane Wyatt and Sam Jaffee. The survivors of an airplane crash in the Himalayas stumble into Shangri-La, the valley Utopia where no one ever ages.

"Only Angels Have Wings," Wednesday's showing, stars Cary Grant, Jean Arthur and Thomas Mitchell in Howard Hawkes' adventure story about flyers in a South American town who try to maintain regular mail deliveries in the face of formidable odds.

SHOW TUNES

Country 'n Western. Everything but hard rock will be on the program this Saturday midnight at Summer Intime's Midnight Cabaret. It's in the Lower Room, adjacent to Murray Theatre, right after the show in the theatre.

Unusual variations on old favorites -- that's what they're promising -- show tunes, country and western. Adam Roth will be master of ceremonies, and Phil Labar will be at the piano.

John Vennema, Anne Hoffmann, Eric Zwemer, Winnie Holzman, Joseph Harbeson, all from the SI family, and guest star Alice White, a favorite alumna, will all be on stage.

"FLEDERMAUS"

At Washington Crossing. The bats will be out for some late summer frolicking when the Princeton Opera Association presents the comic opera "Die Fledermaus" ("The Bat") in the Open Air Theatre of Washington Crossing State Park.

It will be staged Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 21, 22 and 23, all at 8:30, and will be repeated the following weekend, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 28, 29 and 30.

The Strauss favorite has been moved from the Vienna of the 1880s to the era of the 1930s, and Rosalinda, Adele and the rest will wear gowns a la Harlow, carry long cigarette holders and even waltz through a Busby Berkeley-like routine.

The complexities of the "Fledermaus" plot take as long to explain as to sing. It's all Viennese whipped cream and froth, with a masked ball and an alluring masked beauty who is — but surely you will have guessed.

Princeton Opera Association singers will present the opera in English.

Current Summer Intime Production "Charming, Thoroughly Engaging"

Summer Intime has scored again with its current charming and thoroughly engaging production of John Van Druten's sophisticated romantic comedy, "The Voice of the Turtle".

The story concerns three young people over the course of a weekend in New York City during the Second World War. Olive Lashbrooke (Katherine Stewart) and Sally Middleton (Anne Louise Hoffman) are the proverbial aspiring young actresses.

Olive breaks a weekend date with Sgt. Bill Page (Jim Shankman) when something better comes along. Much to her annoyance, her own arrangement turns sour while her friend and the young man fall in love.

Poignant, Not Brittle. Since the action centers in Sally's apartment and becomes more than platonic, it would seem an ideal set-up for one of those "adult" comedies where the leer and laugh go their merry concupiscent way. This is not the case with Intime's "The Voice of the Turtle."

Director Mitchell Ivers has wisely chosen to give the play a soft and poignant quality by focusing on character rather than situation. Thus what might have been a brittle orchestration of one-liners becomes instead a truly moving evening of theatre.

The director's touch is obvious in the unity of the production. Everything from the authentic 1940's radio broadcasts and radio set to some ingenious stage business at the beginning of each act helps to establish either mood or character.

Mark Nelson's two-level apartment set is a case in point. Through their many trips up and down the steep steps which connect the different areas, the actors are able to delineate further with this bolder and more obvious physical movement what they are trying to show elsewhere with gesture or word inflection.

Feeling of Vulnerability. Anne Louise Hoffman seems constantly and frenetically on the move. In her walk, if a gazelle or fawn could be said to walk, there is a feeling of vulnerability, of conflict between wanting to become involved emotionally and yet at the same time fleeing that very involvement.

Katherine Stewart, her more worldly friend, is, on the other hand, a panther who glides across the room and down the stairs and then curls on the couch with a cigarette awaiting her next victim.

Jim Shankman, the man in the middle, has a world weariness to his step which mirrors both his fatigue from the army grind and the slightly F. Scott Fitzgerald aspect of a man of 25 whose romantic life is seemingly behind him.

The acting, particularly the ensemble work, of this talented cast is superb throughout. Every movement, a raised eyebrow here and a little turn of the head there, every inflection of the voice is almost perfect. These are three genuinely fine performances.

Other Credits. As for the other aspects of the production, particular credit should go to whoever was able to resurrect the 1940's kitchen complete with running water. Katherine Stewart's costumes were first rate. Her own choice of a snood for her costume was a stroke of genius. Taylor Blanchard's lighting was excellent and Robert Davidson, who has been handling sound recording and engineering for the company, continued his fine work.

"The Voice of the Turtle" will end its run this Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8:30 and Sunday at 7:30 (August 7, 8, 9, and 10). Phone 452-8181 for reservations or drop by the box office at the Murray Theatre on the Princeton Campus opposite the Chapel. Look for the Mark Nelson designed billboard.

Summer Intime is also continuing its Film Series on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Call the above number for details.

An inter-denominational community choir, "The United Voices of Princeton," 25 strong, originated and are now based at the First Baptist Church. They may be remembered for a stirring benefit performance at Princeton High School to raise money for the high school choir's European tour. Mrs. Willie Mae Tadlock is the group's business manager, and Mr. Floyd Phox is its current president.

The audience is reminded to bring blankets and camp chairs with which to enjoy the hour long free concert on the green in front of Nassau Hall. If it rains, the concert will be held the following evening, same place, same time.

LAST OF CABARET

At Nassau Inn. The last show of Inn Cabaret's mini season will be this Friday at 11:30 p.m. Before that, however, there will be a next-to-the-last show at 9:30 p.m. Both in the Nassau Inn's Prince William Room, seating first-come, first-served, bar available, better get there half an hour before performance time.

For this finale, Inn Cabaret's director Dan Berkowitz has assembled Roo Brown, Liz and Steve Fillo, Laird and Reid White, Toolie Clark, Harris Worcester and resident choreographer Joan Lucas. Leila Cannon has promised her "Bawdy Cockney Lady Getting on the Bus," and Laird White and Nat Hartshorne will again provide original comedy material.

The six-week season which started on The Fourth of July, has been a success, Mr. Berkowitz reports, adding "a lot of people have urged us to continue the cabaret in the fall, and from the response this summer, it looks as though there is an audience for it."

"So who knows? Maybe we'll be back..."

DIVERSITY

In Twilight Theatre. "Choice cuts in prime thyme." That's the way Princeton Twilight Theatre likes to describe its evening of brief dramatic works, scheduled for presentation this Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at 185 Nassau, the old Nassau Street School.

Twilight has chosen two from the writings of Dorothy Parker: "The Waltz," a famous short story, and "Here We Are," a cynical view of marriage. Beth Adler has adapted "The Waltz" for the stage and will perform it as well. Marjory Jones and James Sharp will appear in "Here We Are."

Several Jules Feiffer's cartoons will be animated for performance by Jim Dicke, Walter Broner, Nancy Schwellenbach, Susan Cooper-Smith, Meg Starr and Liz Fischer.

For a change, the players will present I.B. Singer's drama, "In the Poorhouse," set in turn-of-the-century Poland. Diana PoKempner, of Twilight Theatre, has adapted the story to the stage. It will be acted out by Nancy Schwellenbach, Walter Broner, Kevin Colman, Marjory Jones and Steve Herzog, with Margy Levine narrating.

Arthur Kopit, whose Dad hung in the closet, has written "The Conquest of Everest," described by Twilight as "a petite farce atop the world." It will be performed by Kevin Little, Meg Starr and Walter Broner.

Throughout the evening, Ward Wilson, Richard Carlin, Kevin Colman and Marjory Jones will read various kinds of verse, ending with two poems by Hillaire Belloc on the nasty ends that can befall nasty children.

Chris Negus is in charge of lights, James Sharp of stage design, Liz Fischer of posters and Everest.

"ANNIE....!"

"...Git Yer Gun." Irving Berlin's musical about Annie Oakley, "Annie Get Your Gun" will be the Open Air Theatre offering for this weekend and next. The Washington Crossing State Park theatre will present the musical this Thursday, Friday and Saturday and next Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8:30 (rain dates: Sunday, August 10 and 17).

This is the one with the women's lib song, "Anything You Can Do I Can Do Better," and the chauvinist pig song, "The Girl That I Marry." It also has "You Can't Get a Man with a Gun," which could fall anywhere in between, and "There's No Business Like Show Business."

Barbara Dyett will be Annie Oakley and Edward Teti will be the sharp-shooter, Frank Butler. Donald Doele will be Buffalo Bill, Martin Merrick will be Chief Sitting Bull, and Stephen Metelits, Terence Faherty, Rita Bencivengo and Jack Friedel will complete the cast.

Ina R. Wilner is directing, Tom Hagaman and Elaine Hagaman are in charge of music and Chip Gentles is designing the choreography. Others, on the technical staff, include stage manager, Gary Garofano; assistant to the director, Joy Metelits; set designer, Nelson Atkins; costume designer, Paula Berg; property chairman, Frani Cappuccio.

SOPRANO TO SING

At Middlesex College Concert. Thalia Vamvakas will present a concert Wednesday at 8 at the College Center Theater of Middlesex County College. The concert has been billed as a Gala State Bicentennial event and Tricentennial Celebration of Middlesex County.

Ms. Vamvakas is an exponent of bel canto singing, especially of Puccini operas. Her successes have been primarily in Europe during the last four years prior to her return to the United States and her debut at Avery Fisher Hall last fall.

Middlesex County College is on Route 514 (Woodbridge Avenue a few miles north of the Raritan River bridge on U.S. 1 on the site of the old Raritan arsenal.)

DRAGONS DIFFER

As Anyone Knows. It is not true, says Creative Theatre, that if you've seen one dragon, you've seen them all. The question will be explored in depth in the course of a play called "If You've Seen One Dragon...." to be given this Saturday at 10:30 a.m. at Trinity Church, and next Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Open Air Theatre in Washington Crossing State Park.

Amie Brockway, who assembled the collage, says the play is a concoction of dragon stories, a family reunion of our favorite friends of extinction."

We are concerned with plans for a surprise party for Albert, the Reluctant Dragon, and we meet Puff, the Magic Dragon, Mad Madam Mim and the Loch Ness Monster. There is a special surprise at the end.

"If You've Seen One Dragon...." is available for September tour. Schools, daycare centers, libraries, parks and recreation programs may inquire by calling 924-3489.

PRINCE

Monty Python and the Holy Grail. You've been seeing them for free on the home television and now – yes! – you can pay to see them again on the silver screen. Judging from the early reviews, followers of the "Holy Circus" series on television are not likely to be deterred by the price of admission.

This film marks the Python gang's second plunge into cinematography, and it is considered far more unified and structured than any of its television efforts and infinitely superior to its first film, "And Now For Something Completely Different," which had only a limited release in the United States.

Directed by Python members Terry Gilliam and Terry Jones, this 90-minute color feature giddily attacks the genre of the historical epic while spinning out an anachronistic version of the legend of King Arthur.

Playing tricks on the viewers right from the introduction of the credits, the film shows Arthur in search of valiant knights. Enroute he fends off socialistic medieval peasants ("I didn't know we had a king – I thought we were an autonomous collective"), and a vicious knight who

IT'S NEW To Us

A BRANCH FOR BIKES

Jay's Cycles Has Them All. While bicycles have always occupied an important place in a child's life, the past few years have witnessed an explosion in their sales and use by adults. With the emphasis on a return to the natural and the high price of gasoline, bikes provide an inexpensive means for both transportation and entertainment.

To help meet this need, last Spring Tiger Auto opened a branch store devoted exclusively to bikes. While the main store continues to carry a full line, Jay's Cycles, located in the old BP gas station, offers a larger display area and easy parking -- the latter being especially important if you're trying to put a bike in or out of a car.

The major line carried by Jay's Cycles is the Raleigh. This British company makes the best bikes available from a 20-inch child's model right on up to a professional racing bike selling for $900.

In between there are several three or 10 speeds to choose from, and the number of necessary gears is a question many purchasers must consider. As a general guideline manager Dick Propasco suggests a three-speed bike if you bike only a few evenings a week and a 10-speed one if your biking often includes five miles or more a day and a hilly terrain.

Because the gears of the three-speeds are all enclosed, they are extremely durable (keeping the maintenance at a minimum) On the other hand while the 10-speed bikes have external gears, they also provide a wide choice of gears and 27-inch wheels which come with higher pressure tires that roll very easily.

According to Consumers Reports, the Raleigh Sports is the best three-speed bike you can buy. Its features include self-adjusting brakes, a steel reinforced rim and fenders that have been spot welded, $109 for a man's or woman's model.

A Bike That Folds. Raleigh 10-speeds start at $130, with models suitable for general touring or commuting, as well as for racing. Also available are specialty bikes such as the Tourist, which comes with 28-inch wheels, especially designed for tall people; or the Folder, a three-speed bike that is perfect for boaters, campers or apartment dwellers.

BICYCLE REPAIRS AT JAY'S CYCLES. Is your bike in need of Sissy bars, a new speedometer or a general tune-up? Whatever the problem, Manager Dick Propasco and the other mechanics at Jay's Cycles will handle it.

Although Raleigh makes a 20-inch coaster brake bike, Jay's Cycles also carries the Columbia 20-inch models. While both are excellent, for a child in the learning stages Dick Propasco recommends the Columbia with its wider wheels, $60. And for families with both boys and girls, there is even a convertible model that can be handed down.

Columbia also makes three-speed children's bikes, 20-inch and 24-inch size, and 10-speed bikes priced from $100.

Today, most people ask for 10-speeds and so Jay's carries several other lines. There are the French Motobecane bikes with excellent components, priced from $145; the Japanese Fuji line which is currently extremely propular; the Gitan; and Royce Union bikes.

All bikes are sold fully assembled with a 90-day guarantee on all external parts and a one-year guarantee on the internal aspects. In addition there is a free 60-90 day service check-up.

However, sales are only one-half of Jay's Cycles. There is also the repair service where several mechanics will work on any brand. Particularly nice is the clear posting of all labor rates, ranging from installing kickstands at $2 to a complete overhaul at $10.

Located at 249 Nassau Street, Jay's Cycles is open Monday through Saturday from 9 to 5:30 and Thursday evenings until 8:30.

COOL OFF, CURL UP

With a Good Book. August has certainly arrived with a heat wave – temperatures in the 90's and the humidity almost as high. If last weekend the tennis court felt like a sauna and the pool like your bathtub, why not find a cool spot and relax with some summer reading.

In case you don't already have a book you've been "going to read" for some months, we asked Ralph Shadovitz of Princeton Book Mart for some suggestions.

The runaway best seller this season is "Ragtime" by E.L. Doctorow. Set in America at the beginning of this century its main characters are entwined with many famous names of that period, $8.95, published by Random House.

There is also Jimmy Breslin's "How The Good Guys Really Won: Notes from an Impeachment Summer." Having spent the Spring of '74 in Washington talking informally with Congressmen, lawyers and aides, Mr. Breslin recounts many stories and his views, including his theory about the illusion of power, $6.95, published by Viking Press.

For many a chuckle there is "Without Feathers," a collection of Woody Allen's writings, many of them from

Engagements and Weddings

ENGAGEMENT

Brinster-Michael. Miss Margaret Brinster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Brinster, 271 Mercer Road, to Geoffrey T. Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Robert Michael, 63 Hemlock Circle.

A graduate of Princeton Day School, Miss Brinster attended Wheaton College and was graduated from Skidmore College. Mr. Michael is a graduate of Princeton High School and Virginia Polytechnic Institute. He is employed in an engineering capacity at the environmental management firm of Research Cottrell in Bound Brook.

A spring wedding is planned.

WEDDINGS

McKee-Davison. Miss Robyn L. Davison, daughter of Mrs. Helen Davison, 66 Spruce Street, and the late Robert S. Davison, to Richard G. McKee, son of Mrs. Margaret McKee, 56 Patton Avenue, and the late Robert A. McKee; August 2, in St. Paul's Catholic Church.

The bride, a graduate of Notre Dame High School, is employed by the Borough of Princeton.

A graduate of Princeton High School, the groom is employed by Princeton University. After a wedding trip to Jamaica, the couple will reside in Princeton.

Harding-Coates. Miss Carol A. Coates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Coates of Belle Meade, to James F. Harding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Harding, also of Belle Mead; August 2, in St. Paul's Church.

Mrs. Harding was graduated from Montgomery High School.

Her husband, also a Montgomery High School graduate, attended Mercer County Community College. They both will attend Ball State University in Indiana and live in Muncie, Indiana, after a honeymoon on Cape Cod.

BY THEIR OWN circulation figures, no other newspaper comes close to matching TOWN TOPICS' ability to take your advertising into every home served by the Princeton Post Office.

The New Yorker. Published by Random House, it costs $7.95.

Judith Rossner has written a spellbinding novel, "Looking for Mr. Goodbar." It is the story of the life and death of Terry Dunn, an attractive young schoolteacher who appears to have everything under control until one New Year's Day when she is murdered, $7.95, published by Simon and Schuster.

And if you are a John McPhee fan (as many area residents are), there is a new gathering of his recent and memorable writings -- "Pieces of the Frame." The stories range from the backwoods of Georgia to the high altitudes and higher stakes at Ruidoso Downs, New Mexico, where a small-time Arkansas horseman attempts to win the world's richest horse race. Published by Farrar, Straus & Giroux, the price is $10.

Lastly, if despite the heat you care to be on the move, do invest in "The Inn Book" by Kathleen Neuer. It is a field guide to old inns and good food throughout the New York, New Jersey, Eastern Pennsylvania, Delaware and Western Connecticut areas.

In addition to "The Island of Princeton," nearby spots include Flemington, Bucks County and Cape May, called "The Gingerbread-by-the-Sea." There are maps to get you there and a list of inns with lodgings if you wish to stay, $4.95, published by Pyne Press.

keeps taunting even after all his limbs have been cut off ("A small flesh wound," he insists).

Typical of the Python ethic, there's something here to offend, as well as amuse, everyone: scatalogical jokes, masochistic monks, and a considerable emphasis on realistic gore. Choice bits include the attempted siege of a French fort using a Trojan Horse shaped like a giant rabbit and the French troops' use of stuffed animals as ammunition.

The film is remarkably well crafted, and highlighted by perfect period sets and costumes and stimulating special effects.

Are Salaries Earned?
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Princeton taxpayers are interested in knowing about school administrators' salaries! Thank you for publishing them.

It would be interesting to know what each one of these highly-paid administrators does to earn this handsome salary as well as the costs to taxpayers for the benefits which go with it.

School Salaries Unjustifiable.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Publication recently of salaries now paid to school administrators by the Princeton Regional Schools (Town Topics, July 24) indicates how irresponsible and incompetent the school people really are. But don't be deluded. Bad as it is, there is more.

These salaries tell only part of the story. It costs more than another $25,000 a year to provide the clerks, secretaries, facilities, services, and perquisites bestowed on each of these economic royalists. They are actually costing taxpayers more than $50,000 a year each!

And there is still more. What about the 180 days? A part-time job at such figures and with no accountibility is pretty sweet on the receiving end. But what about the paying end?

Nothing was said in the letter about amounts also being paid teachers and other employed personnel. These abviously must be as excessive, ridiculous and unjustiviable as the salaries of administrators.

Of course, there should be ao immediate and thorough investigation, and the whole smelly mess should be exposed. Apparently, there is no end to it. But it should not be done by educators, politicians or political lawyers.

No wonder we have educaton that doesn't educate. No wonder there is a widespread belief that more than half of what taxpayers are putting up for education is entirely wasted. No wonder that the average cost of educating a public school student has doubled in the past seven years!

If the setup is so completely rigged by the education labor racket that the persons responsible cannot be put in jail for cospiracy and malfeasance, it may be necessary for some individuals to bring suit against each $50,000-a-year beauty for recovery of the amounts of such extortion.

How does such a racket differ from embezzlement? Isn't legal stealing still stealing?

The Red Cross Replies.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is a letter to Ms. Natalie Vaughn which we have sent in reply to her letter published in last week's edition of TOWN TOPICS.

Normally we do not reply publicly to criticisms of our operations, since we prefer to discuss in person suggestions on how we can better serve the community. In this case, however, since you have chosen to submit your letter for local publication, we feel that we must respond in kind.

A number of us were in a meeting in the Red Cross office when your father arrived. We paused in our proceedings with the disaster chairman to allow Mrs. Honore, the Executive Director, to respond to your offer. None of us thought that the response was cool as you have stated.

Mrs. Honore pointed out that your donation of pillows and blankets might not be needed in the immediate area, but could be most useful in the surrounding devastated areas. Other items that you offered, namely kitchen equipment and a number of ladies' hats, we could not guarantee as far as usefulness. The new shoes will be used most appropriately.

For over one week the Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross received and processed applications for flood relief. Because of the nature of the problem and the welcome intervention of federal and state agencies, most of our work (after meeting emergency needs) has been referral in nature.

It should also be noted that we operated a shelter at Dutch Neck for stranded motorists and stood ready to open other shelters if needed. With the help of our regional office, we have participated in need surveys in West Windsor Township, Plainsboro and Cranbury. The results of these surveys have been made available to municipal authorities and to the newspapers.

We were responding and will continue to respond to the needs of disaster victims. We commend the work of the police, the volunteer fire companies and rescue squads who worked without cessation to alleviate the problems of those affected by the flood.

It must be clear to our community that offerings to the American Red Cross are always appreciated, but that we cannot automatically

A Time to Think Twice.
To the Editor:

I hope that members of the Princeton Regional School Board will think twice before signing a contract binding the taxpayers to the proposed 1975-76 salaries for school administrators. Is any Princeton child or teenager going to be helped by these inflated salaries?

"Inaccuracies Do Occur."
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Last week Mr. Bevin Smith was critical in your Letters to the Editor column of the coverage provided by WHWH during the severe floods of July 20. He suggested among other things, no word was given to the public about the tree down on Nassau Street "until long after the street was cleared" and further suggested our "morning after" reports were in part inaccurate. Finally, he suggested we "invest a dime to check more frequently with municipal and state police during major weather problems".

We would love to have Mr. Smith come to our station during emergencies and we will supply the dimes. Inaccuracies do occur and information is sometimes missed.

Our seven trunk lines light up during emergencies with mayors, policemen, and helpful citizens calling us even as we call out. But a street is open one moment and not the next – and if Mr. Smith were stuck – as I was for over an hour on Alexander Street wishing I had a radio telephone so I could inform the station what the real story was ... he would realize in such storms, even the police reports may not be accurate from time to time because situations change so fast.

Many hundreds of people have already noted their appreciation for WHWH staying on all Sunday night, July 21, with staff who instantly volunteered their services. Perhaps Mr. Smith doesn't enjoy our Sunday Classics which were constantly interrupted with such information as we could get.

We did our best and the reason we do receive so many public service awards, Mr. Smith, is for that very reason. We do our best. I am truly sorry that from time to time our information is not 100 percent accurate -- it's a virtual impossibility. By the way, next time please send us a copy of your Letter to the Editor -- we respond as graciously to occasional criticism as we do to frequent praise.

Thank you.

HERBERT W. HOBLER
President, Nassau

Storm Coverage Commended
To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Mail Box, in the issue of July 31, published a letter from Mr. Bevin Smith critical of radio station WHWH in its programming during the rain storm on July 20. Mr. Smith complained that the information being broadcast was neither accurate nor current.

He apparently fails to appreciate that the radio station must depend on reports from the police department and other municipal authorities for current and accurate information relative to highway conditions. As a taxpayer he should criticize the tax-supported agencies rather than the media which furnish entertainment and news without charge to him, and which merely relay the information provided to them.

Mr. Smith is apparently not aware that WHWH makes a standing offer to pay $5 to any person who observes and reports a newsworthy incident. It is unlikely that they would pay even that small sum unless they intended to broadcast the information.

In contrast to Mr. Smith's comments this writer wrote a letter to WHWH commending the station for outstanding public service on the night of July 27 when the station not only interrupted its regular programming during the deluge that night to broadcast information about flooded roads, but continued operating several hours after it normally signs off to help stranded motorists, including the writer, to reach their destinations as expeditiously as possible. On that occasion the police department asked the radio station to tell their listeners not to call the police except in an emergency. Information on highway conditions would be furnished only through the radio stations.

In closing I feel it advisable to state that I have no connection, of any kind, with WHWH and am writing only in the interest of fairness to the broadcasting media.

SALES, EARNINGS UP

At Applied Research. Princeton Applied Research Corporation, a manufacturer of research and analytical instruments, reported a 17 percent increase in sales and a 43 percent increase in earnings for the first half of 1975. For the first six months of 1975, sales were $5,133,700 and net income was $401,900, compared to $4,379,400 and $280,800 for the same period in 1974.

Income per share rose from 31 cents for the first half of 1974 to 44 cents per share for same period this year. New order bookings increased by nine percent, and the June 30, 1975, backlog was $1,418,000 compared to $1,270,000 a year earlier.

ACCOUNTS ACQUIRED

By Barish Agency. Mort Barish, president of Mort Barish Associates advertising agency, has announced the addition of eight new clients. Applied Color Systems of Princeton, manufacturers of computerized color control systems for the plastics, textile and paint industries is a new account for which Barish Associates will provide full agency services.

Other new clients include Princeton Financial Systems, which offers a specialized portfolio analysis computer service to the insurance industry; the TRW Crescent Wire & Cable Company, Trenton, manufacturers of industrial wire and power cable; and A.S. Barnes & Company, Cranbury, publishers of fine books since 1838.

KRAMER IS CITED

By Accountants Chapter. The Princeton Chapter of the National Association of Accountants has presented Robert Kramer with the Chapter's "Person of the Year Award" for his outstanding contributions to the Chapter last year.

He is controller of Westminster Choir College and served as vice-president of the Chapter the past two years. The Chapter has also announced its new board of directors and officers for the 1975-76 year. They are Ralph Myers, president; Charles Sabino, Betty DeSherbinin, David Vance, vice presidents; Lois Kraty, secretary and Lawrence Brooks, treasurer.

Directors are Raymond Schlucter, meetings; Joy Bond, member acquisitions; Mary Barna, member relations; Carole Ann Elsea, communications; Walter Wahler, publicity; John Katsock, special activities; Robert Schapperle, programs; Leonard Tylka, professional development, Richard Koenig, educational projects; William Becker, manuscripts director; and Henry Stinson, community affairs.

the Algonquin Park in Ontario. The lightning struck July 20.

Densely Wooded. On that day, according to Mr. Sorg, the boys were portaging their canoes and gear between two lakes when they were caught in a rainstorm. The boys huddled in a densely wooded area near the lakeshore. Then lightning struck the lake's surface, close to shore.

The electricity followed a stream of water that was flowing down the trail leading to the shore. The electrical shock knocked to the ground all but two or three of the boys, some of whom were 70 feet from shore.

The jaw of one of the boys was rigid for about five or ten minutes, Mr. Sorg said, but there was no other spastic body movement. Mouth-to-mouth resuscitation was administered to this boy.

The second boy was knocked unconscious for about 15 minutes. The leaders treated him for shock. The third boy, Mr. Sorg said, may not have been struck at all. But in the excitement of the moment he fainted and he too was treated for shock. All the other boys picked themselves up and were not affected by the lightning.

No Disorientation. Mr. Sorg said that within three hours of the incident none of the three boys showed any disorientation. By that time a new camp had been established and the leaders kept all the boys in bed overnight. By the morning of the third day all the boys were eating normally and appeared in good condition. Leaders Schimel and Greenwood decided to push ahead with the trip. The two boys most affected were kept in canoes with the leaders.

"We had one parent complaining, but we had another parent, whose boy had stopped breathing, commending the leadership," said Mr. Sorg.

W. WINDSOR SAYS 'NO'

To New Town Hall. Voters in West Windsor have closed the door on a proposed new $1.7 million municipal building. In last week's referendum, the vote was 911 to 797 against construction. The voter turnout was 46 percent.

The township is renting municipal offices. Police headquarters are in a condemned building. West Windsor already owns the proposed seven-acre site at the corner of Everett Drive and North Post Road. Mayor Richard Walter said after the referendum's defeat that the municipality may build just a police station on the land.

"I would like to see some sort of positive statement from the dissenters as to what should be done," Mayor Walter said, "Do they want nothing? Do they feel we should spend a million? Up to now, they've given us nothing, just 'no.'"

Flood Clean-up

Borough householders with flood-damaged goods and debris may put them out for municipal collection ONE DAY ONLY next week.

- If you live east of Witherspoon Street or on the east side of Witherspoon, your collection day will be next Tuesday.
- If you live west of Witherspoon, the Borough engineering department will be around on Tuesday.

No large appliances, nothing larger than one man can lift, nothing that isn't flood-damaged.

Meanwhile, the Township's flood-collection is flowing along nicely. This Thursday, Election Districts 2 and 22 will have pick up; this Friday, Districts 7, 8 and 13.

CANDIDATE PICKED

By Republicans for Freeholder. Mercer County Republicans in a full county meeting directed by Chairman Nancy Schluter met last week and unanimously selected Walter Bastecki to be the freeholder candidate to fill the unexpired term of the late Charles Farrington.

Mr. Bastecki, 28, is a Hamilton Township resident. He formerly lived in Trenton and served as Trenton Republican Municipal Chairman. He is past Chairman of the Mercer County Young Republicans.

Mr. Bastecki joins the freeholder team of Joseph Piskorowski, a member of the Lawrence Township School Board, and Rita Strmensky, a councilmember in East Windsor Township.

Q. To buy or not to buy, that is the question.
Because substance and quality are absolutely essential in this questionable economy, buying an Audi* 100LS makes more sense today than ever before.
You'll be buying the roominess and comfort of a full-sized car: legroom and headroom usually associated with cars twice the price; orthopedically-designed seats that adjust to your body, that reduce fatigue.
You'll be buying German engineering: the control of front-wheel drive and independent suspension; the raciness of rack-and-pinion steering; the extra security of negative steering-roll radius and outboard-vented front disc brakes.
You'll be buying the added economy of fuel injection: 18 miles per gallon* in the city and a startling 28 miles per gallon* on the highway.
It's an elegant, finely-engineered medium-priced luxury car that is built to last. That's substance and quality in any economy, no question about it.

Orson Welles' Martian Visit to Grovers Mill To Be Returned, Courtesy RCA Space Center

MARTIAN "LANDING SITE": Lew Chamberlin, veteran Grovers Mill resident, points to where "the Martians landed" during Orson Welles' "War of the Worlds" broadcast in 1938. Today, a few miles east of the imaginary landing site, is the RCA Space Center, where engineers designed and built the communications system for the Viking Lander spacecraft. Scheduled for launch from Cape Canaveral on Monday, it will make an unmanned landing on Mars in July, 1976. Mr. Chamberlin holds a scale model of the Viking Lander.

After being "invaded" by Martians more than 35 years ago, Grovers Mill has long since settled back to its quiet ways.

On Halloween, 1938, a science fiction radio drama of H. G. Wells' "War of the Worlds" was broadcast for the first time. So real was narrator Orson Welles' account of the Martian hordes invading Earth that many listeners, who had tuned into the program after it had started, actually believed the Martians had handed. Grovers Mill was the primary landing spot mentioned in the broadcast.

Today, an old Grist mill, near the pond where the "Martians landed," has been refurbished and made into an art and craft shop. Across the street, the Govers Mill feed store is doing business as usual.

Several new residential developments have sprung up, but the farmland is still being tilled just as it was 37 years ago.

"Nothing has really changed much," says Lew Chamberlin, the retired town clerk of West Windsor and long-time resident of Grovers Mill.

"It caused quite a furor when it occurred," Mr. Chamberlin recalls. "Several residents got on their knees and prayed, while others packed their cars and took off as fast as they could."

Even as some were fleeing in panic, others who had heard the broadcast on their radios were curiously descending upon Grovers Mill. "They came in droves," Mr. Chamberlin said, "But there wasn't really much to see."

Grovers Mill is only a few miles away from the RCA Space Center where scientists, engineers and tchnicians have built a sophisticated communications system that will fly aboard a spacecraft scheduled to touch down on Mars in July, 1976. Called the Viking Lander, the spacecraft will hopefully provide an answer to the question: Is there or has there ever been life as we know it on Mars? A Princeton resident, University geology professor Dr. Robert Hargraves, is at Cape Canaveral ready to supervise a portion of the flight project which will enable him to study the actual texture of Martian surface. (TOWN TOPICS' Cover Story, July 10.)

Keep Pets Cool

The warning is sounded summer after summer, but like most warnings it apparently cannot be repeated too many times: Don't leave pets in parked cars without adequate ventilation, especially on hot days.

In the sweltering heat last Saturday a Palmer Square shopper left a dog locked in a car in front of LaVake Jewelers. By the time the shopper returned to the car the dog was dead. A salesperson from LaVake rushed out to the sidewalk with water in an attempt to revive the animal, but it was too late.

As Borough Police Chief Michael Carnevale pointed out, the same warning also applies to young children in closed doors. No incidents of that reported yet this summer in Princeton.

SCLEROSIS GROUP HERE

For Training Program. The Young Adult Training Conference Program of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society will be held in Princeton the week of August 11-18. A feature of the week-long series of workshops and panels will be a "Ride for Independence from Multiple Sclerosis", by bicycle from Philadelphia to Princeton. It will take place next Thursday, August 14.

Martin P. Lombardo, Princeton resident and Borough Council member who is national coordinator of youth and young adult activities for the national society, will preside at several of the sessions and will be a speaker at the opening session. He will participate in a panel on fund-raising, and will address a general session on "Establishing Chapter Youth Leadership Committees". He will also serve as moderator during several workshop sessions.

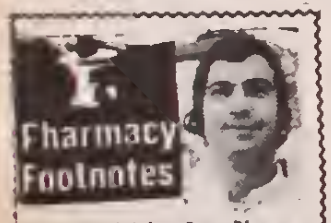
Pharmacy Footnotes



by Mel Atlas, Reg. Pharm.

Ever hear of the herb "mugwort?" There is an ancient and curious belief going back to Pliny that the juice of the plant will prevent exhaustion on a long journey. The leaves, when worn in shoes, enabled the wearer to walk forty miles, experts tell us, without getting tired. The herb was also used for failing sight and to counteract the effects of sunstroke. Unfortunately for science results of the usage of this herb and others were never scientifically tabulated, and we will never know beyond speculation just how effective they were.

Prescriptions are our specialty at FORER PHARMACY, 160 Witherspoon. The finest selection of patent medicines, pharmaceutical supplies and convalescent aids will always be found on our well stocked shelves. We're open daily from 9 to 9 and Sun. from 9 to 3 p.m. Phone 921-7287.

OBITUARIES

Frederick W. Luttmann, 93, of 53 Jefferson Road, died July 31 at St. Francis Medical Center, Trenton. He was founder and served as president of Luttmann's Luggage Store for 66 years until his retirement in 1970.

Born in Dayton, the oldest son of a German-born saddler, Mr. Luttmann learned the trade stitching harness in his father's Dayton shop. In 1904, at the age of 22, he had saved enough to come to Princeton and set up his own shop, F.W. Luttmann—Harnessmaker, in the store then farthest east on Nassau Street.

Over the years, Mr. Luttmann's business gradually changed from turning out such things as a handstitched set of double harness for Mrs. Grover Cleveland's pair of coach horses and repairing steamer trunks for Princeton's travelers to providing lightweight flight luggage and fitted cases for tailgate football picnics. In April, 1954, on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of the shop in its original location at 132 Nassau Street, TOWN TOPICS nominated him Man of the Week.

Mr. Luttmann was a member of the Princeton Lodge 38 F&AM and was an elder of Second (now Nassau) Presbyterian Church for 25 years. He was also an active member of the Princeton Hook & Ladder Company.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Rose L. Ingebrand of Toms River and Mrs. Mary L. Babbitt of Neptune; and two grandchildren, James W. Luttmann and Mrs. Caroline L. Dinsmore, both of Princeton.

A private service was held at the Mather Funeral Home with interment in Princeton Cemetery. Contributions may be made to the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad.

Mrs. Clara B. Rorer, 75, of 29 Broad Street, Hopewell, died July 31 in the Merwick Unit of Princeton Medical Center. She was former president of Rorer Hardware inc. of Hopewell.

A lifelong Hopewell area resident, Mrs. Rorer was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Hopewell, the Hopewell Garden Club, the Hopewell Chapter No. 112 of the Order of the Eastern Star, the LX Club of Pennington, the 39er's Club of Hopewell and the Hopewell Women's Club.

The widow of Herbert Rorer, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Marion Matthews of Hopewell; a brother, Liscombe Blackwell of Crestwood Village, three grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

The funeral was held at a Hopewell funeral home, with the Rev. Burt Parry, associate pastor of the First Presbyterian Church officiating, assisted by Rev. John Ginter, Pastor Emeritus, and the Rev. Arthur Byers. Interment was in Highland Cemetery, Hopewell.

Contributions may be made to the intensive care unit of Princeton Medical Center.

William W. Bothwell, 49, of 37 Constable Road, Kendall Park and Toronto, Ont., died July 9 in the intensive care unit of St. Michael's Hospital in Toronto.

Born and educated in Toronto, Mr. Bothwell had lived in the Princeton area since 1960. At the time of his death he was manager, Eastern States for MacLean-Hunter publishing company, New York, and manager of travel projects throughout the United States for McLean-Hunter Limited of Toronto.

He is survived by his wife, Leona G. Bothwell; two daughters, Shara T., a student at Kent State University, and Alix E., at home; a son, Ian, also at home; and his sister, Miss Valerie G. of Toronto.

The funeral was held in Toronto with interment in Maple Cemetery, Maple, Ont.

Mrs. Marcia M. Burke, 36, of Prospect Plains Road, Jamesburg, died August 1 in Paoli Memorial Hospital, Paoli, Pa. of pneumonia. She was the wife of Edward M. Burke of Jamesburg and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Judson W. Mack of Rochester, N.Y.

Mrs. Burke was a graduate of the University of Michigan and held a master master's degree from the University of Rochester. She was employed by the First Boston Corporation, N.Y.

She is also survived by her sister, Mrs. Brett Gutsche of Paoli, Pa. The funeral was held in Rochester, N.Y. Contributions may be made to the memorial fund at the Medical Center at Princeton.

Elizabeth Lourie, 78, of 26 Linden Lane, died July 30 in Princeton Medical Center.

Born Countess Elizabeth Belewsky Joukowsky in Moscow, Russia, she was the widow of Arthur V. Lourie. She had lived in Princeton for 20 years.

Surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Mary Teissier of France; two sisters, Mrs. Alexandra Fells of New York City and Mrs. Marie fanouchevsky of France and two grandchildren.

A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated Monday at St. Paul's Church. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Charles Littleton Groom, 78, of 46 Princeton Avenue, died July 28 in the Princeton Medical Center. A lawyer, he was a former member of the Borough Board of Education.

Born in Princeton, Ky., Mr. Groom had lived in this community since 1942. A graduate of Central Normal College, he earned his law degree at Yale in 1928. For a number of years, he was associated with the law firm of Cravath, Swaine and Moore, and then for more than two decades was with the CalMar Steamship Co., a subsidiary of Bethlehem Steel. He retired in 1963.

Mr. Groom's hobby was history and he belonged to a number of societies devoted to that field. He was also an elder of the Nassau Presbyterian Church.

He is survived by his wife, Maurine Suiters Groom; a son, James L. of Princeton, a daughter, Mrs. David Bray of Potsdam, N.Y., and six grandchildren.

The service was held in Princeton, Ky. Contributions may be made to the Mercer County Heart Fund of Princeton Theological Seminary.

Christina Ann Capewell, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Capewell, Jr., 33 Knowles Street, Pennington, died July 28 in Philadelphia Children's Hospital. She was born in March in Pueblo, Colorado.

In addition to her parents, she is survived by her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Richards of Titusville; her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Capewell of Pennington; and three great-grandmothers, Mrs. Mary Richards of Scranton, Pa.; Mrs. Ella Schranger of Binghamton, N.Y.; and Mrs.

Delphina Miller of Rocktown.

A graveside service was held at Amwell Methodist Cemetery. Contributions may be made to the American Heart Association.

George R. Meyers, Superintendent of Grounds and Buldings Emeritus at Princeton University, died July 31 at the Princeton Medical Center. He was 76 years old and lived at 11 South Stanworth Drive.

A native of Bellwood, Pa., Mr. Meyers was graduated from Princeton Unviersity in 1922 with high honors in civil engineering. He joined the staff of the Unviersity as assistant superintendent of grounds and buildings, and after serving in various capacities was named superintendent in 1957. He retired in 1965, having worked 43 years in the same department.

Formerly a Trustee and Chairman of the Building Committee of Princeton Hospital, Mr. Meyers had also served as Chairman of the Borough Planning Board. He was for many years a member of the Princeton Unviersity Commencement Committee, as well a member of the Class of 1922 Council, the Nassau Club, the Princeton Club of New York, Phi Beta Kappa, and Sigma Xi.

He is survived by his wife, the former Adiene Burke, and two daughters, Mrs. Markell Shriver, of Princeton, and Mrs. Virginia Villafranco, of Falls Church, Va.

The service was held in the Princeton University Chapel with interment in the Princeton Cemetery. The family requests that contributions be made to the Twenty-Two Foundation at Princeton Unviersity.

William Richardson, 82, of 26 Leigh Avenue, died August 3 in Trenton. Born in Charles City, Va., he was a Princeton resident for 25 years.

Mr. Richardson was a member of the First Baptist Church and an Army veteran of World War I. He was a member of the Charles Robinson Post No. 218 American Legion.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Rosa Jones of Princeton; and five brothers, Armstead and Warner of Richmond, Va., Leslie, Burlie and St. Clair, all of Trenton. The funeral was held in the Martin Luther King Chapel of the First Baptist Church, the Rev. Edward Smith, pastor, officiating. Burial was in the veteran's section of Greenwood Cemetery.

MEMORIAL SERVICE SET

For F. Lovell Bixby. A memorial service for F. Lovell Bixby, who died July 29, will be held Friday at 3 in the Unitarian Church on Cherry Hill Road.

Topics of the Town

Next Monday, the MS group will travel from Princeton to the Statue of Liberty where Mr. Lombardo will be among three speakers on the "Declaration of Independence from Multiple Sclerosis" theme.

As MS Parade down Nassau Street will be held at 7 p.m. next Thursday, at the conclusion of the bicycle trip from Philadelphia. The parade will end at Borough Hall, where welcoming speeches will be given by Borough Council President Joseph P. Moore and Mr. Lombardo. Pattie D'Angelo, a Multiple Scelerosis patient who lives in New Jersey, will also speak, as will Thatcher Longstreth, president of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce.

NEW ROOF FOR MORVEN

Minor Leaks Are Cause. Morven, the governor's mansion on Stockton Street, is in line for a new roof this year at a minimum estimated cost of $25,000. State officials say there are minor leaks in the historic home occupied by Governor Brendan T. Byrne, and contractors' bids are to be received on August 14.

Morven, the 18th Century home of Richard Stockton, signer of the Declaration of Independence and a designated national historic site, is under the supervision of the state Department of Environmental Protection. The new roof, which has been in the planning stages for several months, will be paid for with funds set aside from the DEP's 1974-1975 capital budget, according to Sidney Ytkin, director of administration.

FREE FILMS OFFERED

"Of Human Bondage" Set. The Princeton Public Library will present the second in its current summer series of free Family Movies on Tuesday at 1 p.m. and at 8 p.m. Featured will be "Of Human Bondage," starring Bette Davis and Leslie Howard.

Also on the program is "The Critic," a spoof on the audience as well as the creators of today's movie and art gallery offerings. Everyone is invited to the 95 minute showing; no tickets are required.

VAN VISIT SET

To Collect Aluminum. The Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Van will be behind the Acme supermarket in the Princeton Shopping Center from 11 to 1 on Friday to collect all-aluminum beverage cans, foil and meal trays, for which Reynolds pays 15 cents a pound on the spot.

Recycling used aluminum requires only 5 per cent of the energy needed to produce new aluminum from Bauxite ore. Aluminum cans, in contrast to steel or tin cans, are lightweight, have rounded bottoms, lack side seans and will not respond to a magnet.

Reynolds will also pay the current market price for other aluminum scrap which is clean of all other materials.

SPORTS FANS!
I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW
Brought to you
By John Bernard

Here's a surprising baseball fact... Although no one thinks of Babe Ruth as having been a speedy runner, the fact is that he stole over 100 bases in his big league career... Most people are surprised to learn that Ruth stole 123 bases in his years in the majors.

Here's a tough question for you... In his entire professional boxing career, Muhammed Ali has lost only two fights... Can [illegible] name the only two who have beat [illegible]. Here's the [illegible]... The only two [illegible] to beat Ali are Joe Frazier (in 1971) and Ken Norton (in 1973)... Ali's record to date is 48 wins and 2 losses.

Oddly enough, in his 11 years as head football coach at Notre Dame, Ara Parseghian had only three kickoffs returned against his teams for touchdowns-- and all three were by the same player, Anthony Davis of Southern Cal!

I bet you didn't know that although we have never sold a house, we do indeed insure many homes-- another of our specialties. Try us. You might like us.

Bjorklund, Snickenberger Out of Pro Football; Carl Barisich Only Princetonian Now with NFL

Snickenberger's early demise as a free agent with Boston was not anticipated on a basis of his high rating after a standout senior year. The first Princetonian to achieve All-American status (AP third team) in a decade, he was the Ivy League coaches' choice as Player of the Year over several standouts among the eight member colleges.

His yards gained rushing totalled 1,041, enabling him to set a season record of 16 touchdowns-- four against Cornell in his final game. He also holds Princeton's career record for all-purpose rushing and for kickoff return yardage.

Despite his achievements, Snickenberger was bypassed in the NFL draft last January, all 26 clubs failing to select him in any of their 17 rounds. He then signed as a free agent with the Patriots, after having had a choice between the New England team and the New York Giants.

Snickenberger has reported that the Patriots chopped him off their roster "because I couldn't block the way they wanted me to," but his Princeton coach, Bob Casciola, thinks the Boston squad was so top-heavy numerically that a free agent stands virtually no chance of proving himself in the small time alotted low-rated players. Snickenberger has returned to his home in Ithaca, N.Y., (where his father is Director of Admission at Cornell) and does not anticipate a second opportunity to try out with another NFL team.

The departure of Bjorklund and Snickenberger's absence from the scene leaves Carl Barisich '73, a defensive tackle with the Cleveland Browns, as the only Princeton alumnus in the professional football picture. Ends Bob Harding and Larry Cheshier, who also signed as free agents with the Patriots, have been cut and while nothing is known here of the fate of Tony Biagas, another lineman who took a shot with Boston, he is not expected to survive until the roster is pared to its 43-player maximum.

Two of the best running backs in Princeton football history are not expected to be a part of the action in the National Football League this fall. Hank Bjorklund, who has been with the New York Jets for the past three years, has announced his retirement, with a career in business now his future.

Walt Snickenberger, who last fall paired with Bjorklund as the only Tiger ball carrier to run for more than 1,000 yards in a single season, was cut by the Boston Patriots. In the typical fashion of the manner in which many pro teams evaluate rookies, he was rejected after four days of practice.

Bjorklund was frequently accorded good lip service by the Jets' brass, notably Weeb Ewbank, but he never really fit firmly into their offensive pattern. His fine hands as a receiver were rarely utilized by Joe Namath, for whom the one-time Tiger halfback was often called upon to pass block.

Hank Bjorklund
Early Retirement from Jets

This he did with marked ability, but it cut down sharply on the number of times he served as a potential target. Other backs tended to outrank him as a ball carrier, and he rarely saw heavy duty unless the injury list was high.

At Princeton, Bjorklund had a spectacular day in his final game as a sophomore, when he scored three times in the 1969 upset of a Dartmouth team that came into the Palmer Stadium contest 8 and 0. The victory gave Coach Jake McCandless's team a share of the Ivy crown with Dartmouth and Yale. It was in his junior year that Bjorklund ran for 1,081 yards, becoming the first player to go into four figures in a single season.

6000 SEATS AVAILABLE

For Giants-Steelers. While the interest in tickets to this years' Jaycee Classic football game between the world champion Pittsburgh Steelers and the New York Giants at Princeton's Palmer Stadium has been renewed during the past week, there are still good $12 tickets left between the end zones up to about the 30 yard line on the Steelers side and to the 20 on the Giants side. Due to the low profile of Palmer stadium, almost every seat is a good one on either side. End zone seats at $6 are also available.

The proceeds from this game -- the last pre-season contest for both teams – have annually gone to charities all over the state, amounting to more than $2 million in the last 14 years. Tickets may be purchased by writing the Princeton Jaycees at P.O. Box 1149, Princeton, or calling Jaycee President John Baker at 921-6100 during the day, or any Ticketron outlet.

ETS, McGRAW-HILL LEAD

Hold First Place in Softball. A powerful hitting attack by Educational Testing Service gave the First National Bank of Princeton its second defeat of the season, and ETS undisputed possession of first place in the National Division of the Business Softball League, as ETS won, 13-1.

Willie Turner slammed a two-run homer over ETS's fence in left center field to start the scoring for the victors in the top of the first, and ended up the night with three hits in three attempts. Jerry Murphy and Bruce Saline backed up Bones Gilbert's pitching with 3-4 batting efforts.

McGraw-Hill squeaked by RCA (A) 2-1 to maintain first place in the American Division, with Chet Rue turning in a 2-2 batting record. Bruce Belovin hit 2-3 to help give pitcher Dave Sands the win.

Geophysical Fluid Dynamics Labs continued to show end-of-season strength by putting Mathematica on the losing end of a 13-3 score in a game marked by 11 walks. Bud Moxim stroked a homer for the winners, and Bob Tuleya along with Russ Sinclair showed fine form at the plate with 3-4 hitting.

A game-saving catch by Frank Pecht of a line drive which became a double play gave Forrestal Research a 7-6 win over IDA, and a triple by Sandy Bing and singles by Tom DeVito and Rob Hoffman gave Princeton Day School a 5-4 victory in the bottom of the ninth against RCA (B).

PB&T CLINCHES TITLE

Tiger Garage Second. Princeton Bank & Trust defeated defending champion Tiger Garage, 6-2, last week to win the PYBA Babe Ruth league championship. PB&T, which had been winless in the 1972 and 1973 seasons, and won only four games last year, lost only one game this season, that to Tiger Garage.

The Garage's hopes of derailing PB&T were thwarted by pitcher Carl Nazzaro, who walked only two batters and allowed but four hits. He received offensive support from his PB&T batterymate, Keith Phox. Phox hit 3-for-4 with a double.

Mario Mangone, Dave Reed, and Evan Press also doubled for the winning bankmen.

Manager Craig Wood, a Princeton High School alumnus, took over as manager of PB&T last season, guiding the team to four victories -- a feat compared to the previous two years.

Next year Wood's team will be in the role of favorites. Only third-baseman Seth Sanders will pass the age limit over the winter. Other members of this year's team include Joe Lapsley, David Fitzgerald, John Thompson, Eric Swartzentruber, John Neceda, Jeff Johnson, David Sally, David Reed, Mark Adams, and Leroy Hunninghake.

IVY CLINCHES TITLE

In Adult Softball. Ivy Inn defeated Conte's, 9-5, and Andy's, 10-4, last week to finish first in the standings of the Princeton Adult Softball League. The League has one more week of regular play before playoffs begin.

Against Conte's Rich Volz had a 4-for-4 evening, while Bill McQuade and George McVaugh chipped in with three hits each. Bob Muchiarelli's homerun highlighted the Andy's win as the Ivy's offense recorded a total of 15 hits.

Center Sports took over sole possession of second place with victories over CSC, 13-2, and PMC, 5-4. Center's Bob Wiley and Greg Kline had three-hit nights against CSC. PMC had an upset in the making until Center managed three runs in the last inning. For Center Bob Sweeney stroked three hits.

In other action, CSC defeated Plainsboro Package Store, 9-0, as Dave Jackson and Dave Black had three hits each for CSC. Conte's scored a victory over Kingston Wine & Liquor, 4-3. Kingston's Bruce Daniels had three hits.

Andy's scored an unearned run to defeat Kingston, 2-1, as the two teams fight for the last playoff spot.

PYBA STARS WIN 3

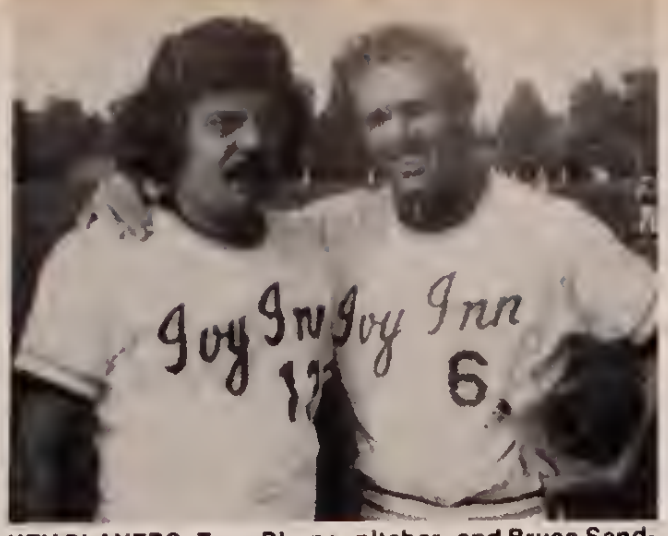
In Tournament Play. The PYBA 10-year-old all star team has posted a perfect record, sweeping three games against area opponents. The Princeton stars came from behind to win one game and pulled out another game in extra innings.

The Princeton nine opened tournament play by defeating Hamilton in seven innings. After ending the regulation six innings in a 5-5 deadlock, Princeton exploded for six runs in the first inning of extra play to gain an 11-5 victory. Terry Phox struck out 12 batters and led the Prince batters with two hits, one a double. Also getting two hits for Princeton were Reid Horovitz, Chris Hunninghake and Mike Tamasi, while Musky Teresky picked up one hit for the winners.

In the next game, a 5-2 win over Nottingham, Reid Horovitz struck out eight batters and helped his own cause with three hits, one of them a double. Other Princeton hitters were Teresky and Eric Larsen.

Princeton stretched its tournament record to 3-0 with a 5-4 victory over Hamilton. Princeton scored four times in top of the last inning on the strength of Phox's big bat and then left Hamilton with three runners stranded on base when the game ended.

Tereski was the winning pitcher in relief of Phox and also picked up a hit. Phox doubled with the bases loaded to drive in three runs and then score the winning run on a ground ball in the last inning.



KEY PLAYERS: Tony Pirone, pitcher, and Bruce Sandvik, outfield, are two of the reesons why Ivy Inn has swept through the Adult Softball League to e strong first-place standing this seeson.

GREEN TOPS NAVY

In Lacrosse Title Game. In a game for the championship the Princeton Summe Lacrosse League, Greer defeated Navy, 11-7. Before their meeting, Green hadn't lost a game all season and Navy had lost only once.

Green was led by Bob Partaka and Ray Kang, who scored three goals apiece, and by Ed Mitzewich, who added one goal and four assists. Hawley Waterman Jr. paced Navy with a pair of goals.

LYTLE LEADS SCORING

In 'Davis Cup. A last-minute individual victory brought France the Davis Cup team championship of the Princeton Community Tennis Program. A dozen teams of 12 players each have taken part in weekly competition intended to give younger players a chance to sharpen their tennis skills.

Captained by Randy Gulick, France defeated David Uffelman's team Canada by a narrow margin. Wayne Lytle's play contributed 20 points to France's team total and won for him a new tennis racket, the prize for individual high scorer this summer. David Asano captured 9 points for Canada and finished second in the individual scoring. Along with Jon Poritz of Australia, Asano was honored for playing the most matches in the 1975 Davis Cup season.

AREA GIRLS EXCEL

In Open Tennis. Vera Jesser and Michele Benjamin won the 16-and-under doubles title in last week's Princeton Girls Open Tennis Championship. Along with Beth Oglesby, Natalie Usiskin, Jill Migliori, and Laurie Roche, these girls topped the list of area players who enjoyed a week of competition in this Middle States Tennis Association sanctioned tournament, which attracted more than 170 entries.

In singles competition Natalie Usiskin was seeded third in the 18-and-under singles behind two seasoned California players who are touring the country to compete in summer tournaments. After winning her first three matches in straight sets, Usiskin forced Denise Nardi to three sets in the semi-finals, 6-4, 2-6, 3-6.

Laurie Roche, a 12-year-old from Belle Meade, yielded a total of only four games in her first three singles matches, and had the No. 3 seed, Heidi Hosch, on the ropes in the quarterfinals only to lose, 7-5, 6-3. Hosch had far less trouble in the final and won the 14-and-under trophy.

One of Princeton's most promising young players, Roche this week is vying for a berth in the Equitable Family Tennis Challenge to be held at Forest Hills during the U.S. Open. Three weeks ago she and her father Larry won the New Jersey qualifying tournament of this father-daughter event.

Other Princeton area competitors in the 14-and-under category were Michele Newman, Vickie Phillips, Bree Ermentrout, Lynn Zuccarelli, Tricia Keeler, Debbie Garb, Amy Hill, Diane Aronovic, Lisa Garb, Amy Lessing, and Diane DeVires.

Tough Draw. Seeded players gave the Princeton young women difficult matches in the 16's singles draw. Carrie Kopelman, Leslie Krause, Karen Clark, Nancy Evans, Laurie Blum, and Michele Benjamin encountered seeded players in early matches and did not manage to record upsets. Vera Jesser, Claire Treves, Diane Needham, and Melanie Thompson also competed in the singles category.

NASSAU WINS EASILY

In Club Swimming. Compiling 136 points more than its nearest competitor, the Nassau Swim Club coasted to victory in the Princeton Area Swimming and Diving Association championship last weekend. Twenty teams participated in the three-day meet at Community Park Pool, but only the Valley Swim Club of Trenton managed to score within 200 points of Nassau.

Nassau's attack was spearheaded by two 12-year-old girls, Val Van Horn and Sue Danielson, who won four events, set three meet records, and contributed legs to two record-setting relays. Van Horn, who won the 100-yard individual medley and the 50-yard butterfly, was named outstanding girl swimmer. Danielson captured the 50-yard freestyle and backstroke, both in record times.

Victories by Marc Coutin in the 14 and under backstroke, John Healy in the 10 and under breastroke, and Li Van Horn, Val's sister, in the 10 and under butterfly, added to Nassau's winning total.

Other area teams at the meet included Pine Brae, fifth place; Stoneybrook, seventh; Bedens Brook, twelfth; Community Park, fourteenth; and Hopewell Valley, nineteenth.

Laurie Long, Ann Wawczak, Beaver O'Hara, and Barbara Bridger of Stoneybrook all won individual events. Long was a triple winner in the 8 and under backstroke, freestyle, and individual medley.

A HOUSE OF CHARACTER

and all the charm and nostalgia that goes with one built in the early part of this century! Set off by towering trees and established shrubbery, this solidly built four bedroom stucco home is a short distance from Princeton, conveniently near train commutation to New York. A neat location!

Almost classic in its balanced design, it features a side welcoming entry hall flanked on one side by a large living room running the depth of the house, with fireplace and adjoining sun porch, on the other by a gracious dining room that opens to a breezy screened porch. Efficient kitchen, powder room and breaklast or laundry room complete the first floor.

But the appeal of this house is not in such basic statistics, rather in the light and space that comes with high ceilings, generous rooms, solid, old fashioned plaster walls, interesting woodwork, and dark toned polished floors There is even an extra — a quaint, "eavesy" study or sewing room tucked away among those four second floor bedrooms.

A separate two car garage, slate roofed like the house, is set at the back of the pretty and unbelievable private grounds. Offered for late Sepember occupancy at just $69,500.

YARDLEY, PA.: We take pride in offering this exceptionally fine home, built in 1930, set on a full acre of beautifully landscaped land. The stone and stucco Colonial house features a gracious entrance hall, large living room with French doors, moldings and a fine fireplace; a large dining room with wainscoating, French doors, and a library, kitchen and screened porch. Up the curved staircase, you will find four bedrooms and two enormous updated baths. The third floor contains another bedroom, a walk-in cedar closet and a bathroom. Also, there is a light and airy, spacious room, which delights and intrigues the imagination with a built-in bar and a dance floor, which could be used for yoga, exercise class, an artist's studio or for partying.
The finished basement is complete with a laundry room, workshop, and a large playroom.
The very private flagstone terrace looks over a sweep of lawn with many fine specimen of holly trees, azaleas and rhodondendrons. $140,000

HOPEWELL TWP.: A beautifully landscaped 3 acre estate close to Princeton and Hopewell, yet a complete private world. The main house is surrounded by lovely gardens and shrubbery, a pool, tennis courts, and a second house that is presently rented, but could be a guest house. The functionally designed main house has 4 large bedrooms and 2½ baths; the spacious living, dining rooms and kitchen all have wall-sized windows, overlooking the gardens. Additionally, there are 1500 square feet of living area on the completely finished ground floor, including a library-study, a recreation and game room, bar, workshop and laundry areas. From this level you can go to the secluded patio, overlooking the pool. A unique offering $175,000

PRINCETON BOROUGH: This super, almost new Colonial has everything for a large family. Nestled among tall evergreens and adjacent to Marquand Park, it has a gracious, bright living room with fireplace, powder room, laundry, and study or library. Upstairs, there are 5 oversized bedrooms and 3 baths. There is a secluded rear patio. Many extra features are included, such as automatic garage doors, stereo, and intercom to each room and a complete kitchen with every convenience $154,500

PRINCETON TWP.: Our newest listing is a solidly constructed one story home, perfect for a small family or retired couple. It has an exceptional lot with privacy and many mature evergreens and plantings on a quiet cul-de-sac, close to Nassau Street. It contains a comfortable living room with fireplace, dining area, kitchen, 2 bedrooms and one bath. There is a large basement, containing the laundry and workshop and an attached one car garage $69,500

HOPEWELL TWP.: This brand new home, constructed of frame and Bucks County stone, qualifies for the tax rebate of up to $2,000 and will be ready for occupancy soon. A delightful plan and custom details make this home a little different. It has a family room with cathedral ceiling and stone fireplace, a formal living room with fireplace, large dining room, kitchen with eating area and separate laundry/mud room, and study with optional bath. Upstairs are 4 double bedrooms. All this on a high lot in Elm Ridge, overlooking the lake. This house is a good value at $129,500

PRINCETON: One of a kind, and a most unusual and desirable kind it is: a ¾ acre wooded lot on a lightly travelled, winding road (Mt. Lucas). It has all utilities and may be built upon now. Most interesting! $32,500

Sunset at the Foot of Sourland Mountain

Split rail fences, pastures, working cattle farm, red barns, with Sourland mountain in the background, are all in the setting of this brand new rancher being constructed in Montgomery Twp. Inside, is a large formal living room, convenient eat-in kitchen, family room with raised brick hearth, three comfortable bedrooms and many extras. Be the first to see it with your Firestone Representative. $62,900

In Montgomery Township on the Way to Griggstown

. . . there's a neat spacious home just right for you in one of Montgomery Township's nicest neighborhoods. Inside, it has plush wall to wall carpeting in the living room and dining room, a large convenient eat-in-kitchen, and three comfortable bedrooms and two full baths upstairs. Downstairs, there is a huge family room with beamed ceiling and massive stone fireplace, and a separate study or guest bedroom and powder room. These and many other fine features make it a very good buy at $61,500

Williamsburg Rancher Overlooking Bedensbrook Valley

This superbly built Williamsburg ranch has an excellent flowing floor plan as well as many fine custom features you would find only in a custom home: center hall foyer heading to a sunken living room, elegant step-up dining room with chair rail, convenient modern eat-in kitchen, family room with raised hearth and wood bos and study-library or fourth bedroom. Excellent construction throughout with fine quality craftmanship as well as material. $78,000

On a Lovely Cul de Sac in Montgomery

This exceptional center hall colonial offers space and privacy for every member of the family as well as fresh air and lots of country sunshine in nearby Montgomery. The living room has both a bow window and a picture window, and leads to a dining room with a chair rail, and a spacious kitchen with a neat separate eating area. Just a few steps away is a rustic panelled family room with a raised hearth and built-in cabinets. Upstairs, are five comfortable bedrooms and two full baths. Outside, in the garden is a 20x40 in-ground pool, a big plus for entertaining. Reduced to $82,500

On Nelson Ridge: Near Beden's Brook Country Club

Just a few minutes from downtown Princeton yet hidden away in a private country setting is a fantastic California ranch with a creatively designed floorplan. At one end of this lovely home is a heated indoor swimming pool with flagstone patio and sauna, while at the other is a delightful master suite that can be cordoned off for either long-term guests, or an in-law arrangement. Both the huge flagstone library-study and the family room have their own fireplace while the kitchen and living room have a view of the pool. There are four or five bedrooms in all and four full baths. When winter comes this year, you can love it or leave it without even leaving your home. Why settle for less? $119,000
